God is not our last hope.

I Am a U.S. Veteran

By Philip Brooks

November 2019

Born a protector, I've been told all my life,
Defending the sheep from the wolves day and night.

Heart and home left behind me; head heavy but high,
My second family and I board a plane and ship out for a fight.

Some of us didn't survive; giving our everything for the cause,
Some of us brought home extra baggage, making us feel dangerous, alone and lost.

The bed is too big, too warm and too soft,
The floor feels like home when a vet comes back lost.

I carry the many burdens of war so my people don't have to,
Most days I feel alone, thankful God pulls me through.

Though my focus has changed, my mission still protection,
By God's grace and His will, it will stay that way till my procession.

As you walk through this day and remember those who fought,
Please take a moment and pray for the ones who feel they've already lost.

In this new battleground that goes unseen,
I thank God He's the ally carrying me.

The VA did a new study this year on the numbers of veteran suicide.
Without God as their leader, by their own hand, 30 vets a day die.

I Am a U.S. Veteran

Thank you Veterans, we pray...

That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love. Ephesians 3:16-17
